

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am grateful to the DG, CRPF for sponsoring me for the APPPA and making it possible to undertake the study on the sensitive issue of suicides in CRPF. All the officers and personnel of CRPF who readily gave their time also deserve my gratitude, without whose responses, it would not have been possible to proceed further in this study.

The Indian Institute of Public Administration, stepping into its glorious 60 years of academic pursuit has given the researcher a platform to undertake this study. The well stocked library of IIPA has greatly helped me in accessing huge body of literature at one place.

My guide and supervisor Prof. Sujata Singh with her immense experience, wisdom and excellent academic credentials took great effort in guiding me at every step in this study. Her incisive suggestions and eye for detail helped in keeping my focus and direction in this research work. I am extremely grateful to her, without whom this dissertation would not have seen the light of the day.

The SPSS was a new tool for the researcher but Prof. Roma Mitra Debnath and Dr. Pawn Taneja took great pains in explaining its usage in my study. I am grateful to both of them, whose guidance helped me in conducting a focused and precise analysis through SPSS.

I am thankful to Prof. Rakesh Gupta, the course coordinator and Prof. Sushma Yadav for always being accessible and providing all support to me in this dissertation. Their team s/shri A.K. Taneja, Manish Rawat and Vinod Kumar Yadav also deserve mention for all their hard work with a smile.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not thank Head Constable Suresh Kumar of CRPF who toiled day in and day out in helping me with the typing and documentation. Special mention must also be made of Head Constable Ramavtar of CRPF who accompanied and assisted me in the field work.

And last but not the least I am ever grateful to my wife, Harshla for bearing with my odd hours. Her understanding and support helped keep my faith in myself.
