

Acknowledgement

I express my sincere thanks to my guide Professor P.K. Chaubey, who took keen interest in my study, provided useful insights on the topic and guided me throughout the course of study. I felt inspired by his intellectual bent of mind and simplicity.

I sincerely thank my course Directors Professor R K Gupta and Professor Shushma Yadav for their constant encouragement and for always extending their helping hands in all kinds of problems during the programme.

I express my gratitude to Professor P.K. Banerjee for showing his interest in my study, giving me valuable inputs and encouraging me.

I am grateful to my colleagues of 39th APPPA for their support and encouragement to me during the course of this study.

I acknowledge help rendered to me by Shri Rajesh Gulia, DFO, Ambala (Haryana) during my field trip to Yamuna Nagar and providing me relevant literature on agroforestry practice in the district.

I thank many villagers who shared their experiences with me during my field visit to Yamuna Nagar, Saharanpur and Dehradun in connection with the study.

I thank Shri A.K. Taneja and Shri Manish Rawat, of APPPA office for their continuous support during the course of this study.

Last but not the least, I thank my wife Seema and my sons Anat, Akash and Aseem for their encouragement and support; they have been the source of inspiration to me throughout the programme and particularly during the dissertation work.
