

Acknowledgement

I would first like to thank my thesis advisor Prof. Nand Dhameja of the Indian Institute of Public Administration, New Delhi. Prof. Dhameja's office was always open for me throughout the research period. He liberally allowed this paper to be my own work, but guided me in the right areas wherever and whenever he thought I needed it.

I would also thank Prof C. Sheela Reddy who became my guide when Prof Dhameja left IIPA in January 2017. She has given valuable suggestions which led to enhancement of this thesis. Invaluable contributions of Prof. Reddy helped me to perfect the report.

I would also like to thank the Course Directors of 42nd APPPA, Prof Sushma Yadav and C. Sheela Reddy for constantly cajoling us to keep focussed on our thesis work. They made necessary adjustments to the training schedule so that the thesis work is not hampered by other engagements of the training.

I would also thank faculty members Prof. Asha Mehta Kapoor, Dr Roma Debnath, Prof. Pranab Banerji and Prof. V K Srivastava who were instrumental in imparting primary knowledge on the subject of writing thesis. Without their passionate participation and valuable inputs, the thesis work would not have been successfully conducted.

I also wish to thank the librarian, IIPA, Dr Usha Mujoo Munshi and her staff who assisted me during the research work. I also thank the APPPA administrative staff who made our stay at the institute very comfortable.

Finally, I must express my gratitude to my wife and son for providing me with unfailing support and continuous encouragement throughout my study. I must express my profound appreciation to my son who parted with his writing desk throughout the process of researching and writing of this thesis. This accomplishment would not have been possible without their support.
