

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, I must place on record my extreme gratitude and sincere thanks for my Supervisor, Professor Suresh Misra for his guidance, support and advice. His calm and composed self, was most reassuring. With his vast academic and professional experience, he gave invaluable inputs, including his suggestion to do a questionnaire at each of the RPL Project Types taken up as case studies, that proved extremely useful in my research.

I take this opportunity to also express my gratitude to Professor Asha Kapur Mehta for providing support and guidance at the initial stages of the dissertation process that helped sharpen and give a clear focus to this research.

I must acknowledge the assistance and cooperation that I received from various quarters related specifically to the subject under study. Mr. Rajesh Agrawal, Joint Secretary in the Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship, together with his consultants, Mr. Pranshu and Mr. Gaurav Jain briefed me about the RPL Project under the Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojana and also introduced me to the officials in the National Skill Development Council (NSDC). At NSDC, I must express my sincere gratefulness to Mr. Sanghwan, consultants - Ms. Swati Arora, Mr. Mohit Tanwar and Mr. Krishan Kumar Gaur. I must make a particular mention about the cooperation extended by Ms. Swati who in spite of her official engagements and even when not well, helped me fixing appointments with RPL Project Type at Gandhi Smriti Gandhi Darshan (GSGD), Sector Skill Council (SSC) for Domestic Workers and their RPL Camp in New Ashok Nagar as well as with Project Implementing Authority (PIA) for Sewing Machine Operators.

Sincere thanks are also due to my friend, Mr. Randhir Jaiswal, Joint Secretary and Social Secretary to the President of India for helping me with my research at the Rashtrapati Bhawan. Ms. Anjali Bakshi, a colleague from the Railway Accounts fraternity presently on deputation to the Rashtrapati Bhawan was particularly helpful in giving insights into the RPL process undertaken in 2016 since she was directly involved with it. Ms. Bakshi was extremely supportive also in getting the questionnaires translated in Hindi as well as in getting them filled.

At the other RPL Centres, SSCs and PIAs, I must make special mention of some extremely cooperative people. At GSGD, the Director - Mr. Dipankar Shri Gyan; Mr. Biswajit Singh - the Project Coordinator; Mr. Vishwas Gautam - the Centre In-charge; and Mr. Ashish Kumar, the Mobiliser were all extremely forthcoming in providing assistance to me. Mr. Ashish's personal efforts at getting the questionnaires filled from the auto-drivers were particularly noteworthy as he went to three remote colonies especially for this purpose. At the SSC for Domestic Workers, I must acknowledge the help rendered by the Head Training, Mr. Nishant Sharma. For the case study done on RPL for sewing machine operators, Mr. Vineet Lal, the SPOC at Modelama in Noida, along with his junior colleague, Mr. Birkhani were very helpful.

For their encouragement, assistance and cooperation throughout, I express my sincere gratitude to the Programme Directors, Prof. Sheela Reddy and Dr. Mamta Pathania. Their continuous support and understanding as well as their helpful nature made learning a pleasure throughout the period of APPPA training, especially during the period of dissertation writing when they lent a patient ear and gave advice on all the queries.

Special thanks are also due to the administrative staff of APPPA office, especially to Mr. Manish Rawat, Mr. Rajesh Kumar and Mr. Mahesh Bisht for not only providing logistical support and assistance, including even tea and coffee whenever requested for, but more so, for always coming forward for any form of help with a welcoming smile which is greatly appreciated.

Thanks are also due to the entire team of the IIPA library under the able and proactive leadership of Mrs. Usha Mujoo Munshi. The entire library staff, right from Sh. Anand Chandra Mishra stationed at the bag counter outside the library, came across as always willing to extend a helping hand whenever approached.

I would be failing in my duty, as well as fear being castigated at home, if did not acknowledge the wholehearted support I received from my family. Sanjeev, my husband, has a keen interest in this subject, too, which helped me share the ideas discussed herein with him. I must express my love and thanks for my two daughters, Arshia and Mahika, who had to live with a 'Laptop Mom' for several months. They kept a constant check on the progress of my dissertation to ensure its timely submission, so much so, that they virtually took on the mantle of being my 'Moms' in this regard!!
