At the outset, I would like to convey my sincere gratitude to the Indian Navy for nominating me to the 40th APPPA, which made it possible for me to broaden my horizons and pursue this research. I express my profound gratitude to Dr. Dolly Arora, Professor IIPA, for her guidance and valuable advice, in undertaking this study. Her timely inputs and directions helped me not only in improving the quality of dissertation immensely but have also helped me to understand the subject matter. My sincere thanks to IIPA Library Staff in helping me, from time to time, in getting requisite data tables and reports from their immense repertoire of Journals and through online subscriptions to excellent web portals.

I would like to place a very special thanks to Commodore Gangesh Kumar, Principal Director, Directorate of Employment, Directorate General Resettlement, for the detailed discussions he had on the subject which facilitated in formulating my ideas on this subject. I would also like to place on record my gratitude to officers of Indian Air Force Placement Cell, Directorate of Air Veterans, New Delhi and Indian Naval Placement Agency for their ever willing support. I would also like to sincerely thank Commander Arun Jyoti (Retd.) for helping me in contacting a large number of retired officers and men, whose response to the questionnaires gave real insight into the preparations Armed Forces Personnel undergo for preparing themselves for second careers. His sharing of personal instances of very typical responses of interviewers from corporate world towards the Officers and men on the verge of retirement became important inputs in formulating my recommendations on how to encourage Corporate to employ Ex Servicemen.

Last but not the least, my sincere thanks to the Administrative staff of APPPA, IIPA, New Delhi for their very positive and timely administrative support in compilation, completion and submission of this dissertation.
