

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I am grateful to the Indian Institute of Public Administration and Department of Personnel and Training, Government of India for giving me this opportunity to further enhance and enrich my knowledge and skills through participation in 36th APPPA. I also convey my sincere thanks to my Department, Office of JS (Trg.) & CAO, Ministry of Defence, for deputing me to attend this course. I have found the programme immensely useful. I could utilize this opportunity for undertaking the study on Gender Budgeting as a part of my dissertation.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my guide Prof. Aasha Kapur Mehta, who has always encouraged me and gave me valuable suggestions and guidance during preparation of this dissertation. With her deep knowledge of the subject and keen interest in putting things in right perspective, I was immensely benefitted in dissertation writing.

I would also like to thank Professor R. K. Barik, Programme Director and Dr. Sachin Choudhary, Co-Programme Director for providing me a lot of encouragement which has been a source of great inspiration throughout the course.

My sincere thanks are also due to the officials of District Administration, Jaisalmer for providing opportunities to interact with women of villages, for enabling me gathering first hand information about implementation of some of the Government schemes and for providing valuable data and information required for this dissertation.

My sincere thanks to the faculty members, library staff and administrative officials of IIPA for their help and co-operation through out the course.

I am also thankful to my family for showing forbearance towards me during the programme and especially during preparation of this dissertation.
