

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The time spent and the efforts made for the completion of this study and the entire course of 35th APPPA has been very rewarding and fulfilling, both intellectually and professionally. For that, I wish to express my sincere gratitude to Shri B.S. Baswan, Director IIPA.

No words will be enough to express the gratitude to Prof. Sujata Singh, Programme Director 35th APPPA and Prof. Nand Dhameja, Associate Programme Director who made the course and this dissertation such an enriching experience.

For the dissertation, I must thank from the bottom of my heart my supervisor Prof V.N. Alok, who not only provided me the direction when I most needed it but also painstakingly and patiently sat through various sessions to help me think out the areas I must work upon. No words will be enough to thank him and I must say that I owe the dissertation to him.

I must place my gratitude to the various officers I interacted with as a part of field work and who gave me time from their busy schedules. Constraints of space do not permit mentioning each one of them by name. However, I must make particular mention of Shri BP Mathur, who was kind enough to give me time and share with me his views on the IFA system based on his vast experience with different Ministries in Government of India, CAG and the NIFM. The interaction with him left me completely humbled and made me realize again the fact that knowledge and learning have no end.

Last but not the least, the support given by the APPPA office (Mr Chawla, Mr Khurana and Mr Bal Krishnan) went beyond their call of duty. It has left pleasant memories not only of the dissertation exercise but also of the entire course.

Finally, I will be failing in my duty if I do not mention the support given by my wife Namrata and my daughters Natasha and Avesha. My wife, for the patience she showed when I was not available for household work being busy with the dissertation. My daughters for they always used to wonder why Papa is studying like a schoolboy but yet they bore with me.

(Pankaj Kumar Singh)