

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Right at the beginning of the APPPA Course, I had made up my mind that I would put in my effort towards dissertation in a field which would be outside my comfort zone. I had done enough study and research on several service related topics in various courses of instruction in Army. Hence I decided to delve on a dissertation topic which would be of relevance to society at large. It is said that half the battle is won if you chose the right topic. To that extent I was fortunate to home on to a contemporary topic, 'Judicial Activism in India.' I found it to be a very challenging and an intellectually rewarding experience.

I am deeply indebted to my supervisor; friend, guide and teacher Dr Lokendra Malik (Assistant Professor, Indian Institute of Public Administration) who with his very helpful and friendly attitude devoted his precious time to help me complete this work despite his other onerous commitments. I enjoyed the privilege of his intellectual and brotherly company throughout the APPPA Programme.

I am thankful to Prof K.K.Pandey, Programme Director and Dr Sachin Chowdhry, Co-Programme Director for providing me a lot of encouragement which has been a source of great inspiration throughout the course.

Special and sincere thanks to the entire library staff at the Indian Law Institute, New Delhi and National Law School of India University (NLSIU), Bangalore for their co-operation and assistance in making available the requisite material for the purpose of this work.

My sincere thanks are also due to the faculty members, library staff and administrative officials of IIPA throughout the course.

Lastly, I thank IIPA for affording me a platform to interact with my co-participants and learn from their rich experience.

05 February, 2012

- Brig G Subramanian

Indian Institute of Public Administration,

New Delhi – 110 002